Biography

- Zhang Yan, I graduated from Shandong Academy of Medicine with Master of Medical Science degree in 2008, and took immunology as my major. During my term of study, I worked at the clinical and preclinical medicine research center in Qilu Hospital of Shandong University for 3 years. At that time, I have read a mass of articles and could use flow cytometer in cell sorting, cell marker detecting, cell identification and so on to assist my advisor to accomplish the scientific research about the field of tumor immunology and reproductive immunology..

- Now I am working at Shandong Provincial Center for Disease Control and Prevention and was engaged in Shandong Provincial Key Laboratory of Infectious Disease Control and Prevention. I paid close attention to Enterovirus, Neisseria meningitis, Bordetella pertussis, Streptococcus pneumoniae and Hemophilus influenzae

Zhang Yan research interest include Enterovirus, Neisseria meningitis, Bordetella pertussis, Streptococcus pneumoniae and Hemophilus influenzae.
